Odyssey December 2010

Sunday Services

December 5 What Does It Mean to be Free?

At Hannukkah we celebrate the Maccabees fight to free the Jews from Roman domination, but the Hasmonean dynasty of their own rule could be just as tyrannous. Just what is freedom and how do we find it?

Rev. Cyn Snavelly

December 12 Numbering the Gods

There is a Hindu story of a student asking a teacher repeatedly "How many gods are there?" Each time he asks his teacher gives him a different answer. In the Hindu tradition all of the answers are right.

Rev. Cyn

Snavelly

December 19 Holiday Choir Service Goodloe Choir

December 26 Multigenerational Kwanzaa Service Tisha Richardson, Director of Religious Exploration

January 2 A Calling

I was raised with the idea that all people had a calling. Whether one was to be a plumber or a preacher or a homemaker one's job was to be taken up with the sense that it was a sacred task.

Rev. Cyn Snavelly

Christmas Eve

A Christmas eve candlelight service will be held on Friday, December 24 at 7:30pm. Please bring some cookies to share following the service.

Shop for the Holidays Support Goodloe Access Amazon from the Goodloe Website

Since this past summer, Goodloe has been registered as an Associate website with Amazon.com. Every Amazon.com sale that is made after one clicks through from the Goodloe site results in a commission of at least 4 to 6.5 per cent for our congregation! In four months, we have earned $160 in commissions! Here is how to make purchases that benefit Goodloe. Instead of accessing Amazon.com directly, go through the special link on the Goodloe website's Fundraisers page (<http://www.goodloeuu.org/fundraisers.html>). Once there, simply click on the black icon that states, "Price. Selection. Convenience." That will take you directly to Amazon.com, where you can shop as usual. If you place items in your cart for later purchase, remember to go through the Goodloe link when you return to Amazon.com. Please encourage others to use the Goodloe link to Amazon.com. It costs the user nothing and can make a real difference for our congregation. Any questions about this can be sent to Joe Puccio, jpucandy@aol.com

From the Minister

Dear Members and Friends of Goodloe Memorial:

It is that time of year again, the month of holidays. We end November with Thanksgiving then move into Hanukkah, Winter Solstice, Christmas and Kwanzaa finishing off the season by beginning January with a New Year's celebration.

There is gift giving, parties, special foods, music. Sometimes we enjoy it. We love the songs we sing one a year, the decorations we have put out since childhood. Sometimes we resent it—we get stuck with too much work or too many bills or both. Sometimes we just want it to all go away—we aren't in the mood for festive. We are grieving a friend, a spouse, a job. We need some quiet reflective time not a festival.

Margaret Starkey wrote, "In time of want, when life is boarding up against the next uncertain spring, we celebrate and give of what we have away....We make a holiday, the rituals varied as the hopes of humanity, the reasons as obscure as ancient solar festivals, as clear as joy on one small face."

No matter how you enter this holiday season eagerly, reluctantly, resistently—give some of what you have to someone who has less and watch a young child's response to learning to spin a dreidl, putting a star on a tree or creating a crèche. Do those two things and you will have honored this season.

Happy Hannukah! Good Yule! Merry Christmas!
Happy Kwanzaa! Happy New Year!

Cyn Snavelly

From the President

Mystic Journeys

We start our worship with a reminder of "Open Minds". Simple words said with sincerity chart our paths for spiritual growth.

We open our minds to the mystery of life, of which we are a part. The wonder and beauty of the many life forms inspire us every day. The majesty and mystery of stars and planets, mountains and oceans, reveal the cycles of life.

We open our minds to wisdom from religions around the world. We search for wisdom on the universal truths of love, peace, hope, joy, justice, freedom, children, community, and so many more. We grow from the wisdom we practice in our living.

We open our minds to different ideas. This is hard because we think, "I am right". So we remind ourselves that there are multiple truths.

And we must actively listen to another person without regard to our differences in age, belief, or custom.

We open our minds to resolve conflict. We often make incorrect assumptions and find ways to feel good by blaming someone else. When we talk to each other courageously and respectfully, then we can clarify our misunderstanding and recognize another's good intentions. We can find a solution that honors and respects both people in ways that resolve a conflict.

We have no tests for membership. We do not ask for adherence to any creed or dogma.

We are free to search and sort our own beliefs. We find encouragement and support from others and their own experience.

Blessed Be
Ken Shilling

Eight New Members of Goodloe -Welcome

From the Religious Exploration Program

By Dick Morris, RE Committee Secretary

Mystery Friends Revealed!

On November 14, Tisha Richardson, our Director of Religious Exploration, revealed my mystery friend to me, and me to him, at a lovely breakfast in the Blue Room. My new friend is Ellery Cole, and I know I will enjoy getting to know him better, because he is a storyteller, and so am I. Tisha had arranged for him to send me two letters containing some really cool drawings he did, one of an "alian" and one with a battle scene from Star Wars. He likes both Luke Skywalker and Darth Vader. We both like ice cream. I sent him a letter with a drawing of a solar house that Barbara and I designed and built in 1978.

At the same breakfast, mystery friends Henry Cole and RE Teacher Lisa Jacobus found each other. What fun. Some children and adults were unable to come, so Tisha announced a second breakfast unveiling on December 5th. The purpose of all this is to bridge the gap between the adult congregation and our children. Let's be friends. They sure are dear.

The Halloween party was at the same time as the church Coffee House. Nine children came and enjoyed activities led by Tisha Richardson, Nita Page Daves and Lisa Jacobus. Noise was controlled and didn't disturb the Coffee House in the sanctuary. The party went too long (until 10 pm) because that's when the Coffee House ended. In the future, "quiet time" will be instituted beginning at 9:00 pm. During quiet time, the young explorers will have the option of participating in quiet activities (including reading, watching a video game, sleeping etc.).

Coming up:

Lisa Jacobus will coordinate cookie decorating at the Holiday Party on Saturday, December 11. Don't miss it!

Tisha will lead the intergenerational Kwanzaa service on December 26th.

Under Tisha's leadership, the RE Committee has approved a mission statement: Help young explorers learn about faith, spirit, justice, and ethics in a sacred space.

And goals:

- 1) Encourage our children to view Unitarian Universalism as a religious/spiritual option as they move into adulthood.
- 2) Teach our children religious skills.
- 3) Encourage our children to learn about and respect religious traditions from around the world.

4) Model good world citizenship and social justice for our children.

A new RE pamphlet for parents of new and prospective children will be ready by the end of the year. And John Cole is preparing an evacuation plan to keep our children safe.

Assistance Needed: Teacher Sid Soderholm needs an assistant for weeks 3 and 4 of each month and a free play assistant for week 5. Please volunteer and join the fun in RE.

Mystery Friends Revealed Round Two

Come to breakfast at Goodloe on Sunday, December 5 at 9:30am. Mystery Friends not revealed in November will be revealed.

Parent Effectiveness Training Support Group

The group meets again on Sunday, December 5. Contact Tisha Richardson for details, goodloereligiouseducation@gmail.com

Goodloe Aesthetics

We don't yet have an official Aesthetics Committee, but our ad hoc group has been working on making Goodloe not only FEEL good to visitors, but look good as well.

At our last meeting we looked at our closets and Marlene Towle assured that all paper and plastic goods were in the same place. I'm sure all of you who work on setting up food on Sundays or for parties will be pleased, as we often haven't known what we already have, and tend to buy duplicates.

This should solve that issue. She also weeded through the credenza drawers - found some fascinating things, but things that didn't need to be in those drawers!

And, oh yes, toilet paper and paper towels are also in one place, so if it looks like we're running out of toilet paper, we probably are.

We moved the "china cabinet" to the choir area, as we didn't seem to have any china to display, so it is now less obtrusive in the back corner, and choir members can put their music in a convenient place, rather than scattered all over the floor.

We still have a ton of mis-matched tablecloths taking up the shelves in our "coat" closet, most of which we may never use, but we could use help deciding what to keep and what to toss.

Louisa Davidson said our nametag boxes looked "tacky", and after trying to find a better looking way to display them, we decided to just take advantage of what we already have and make them look a little less industrial, and probably hang them on the wall to give more table space for items of interest.

As you know, we are still a work in progress, and we value input from all of you, lest we become dictatorial in our zeal, but we would like to propose a few basic rules up front:

1. No scotch-taping or stapling anything to walls
2. No cluttering tables with things that are not pertinent to Goodloe interests and involvements.
3. If we have something that we feel should be permanently displayed, it should be framed, not just "stuck up"

Please consult a committee member before putting something on our walls.

Misty Cole's new quilted wall hanging will be taking a prominent place on the wall of our foyer soon. And Roger's handsome bulletin boards will be hung to the right of them.

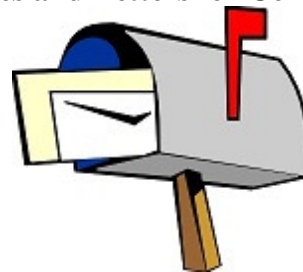

Since our space is so limited, we need to figure out how to share information in a way that doesn't make us look cluttered, and we haven't yet figured out how to do that, so suggestions are welcome.

We need everyone's input if we are to do a good job without ruffling feathers. If we have already incurred the wrath of people who are frustrated by our moving things, we apologize!

Thank you for your patience,

The aesthetic fanatics

Care Packages and Letters for College Students

On Sunday, December 5 we will be making up care packages and/or letters to send off to our college students for their finals weeks. We do not want to send huge boxes so please consider bringing small items—a roll of lifesavers, a purse or pocket-size hand-sanitizer, a bookmark, a bag of two or three cookies—with an encouraging note from you attached. Our students are

Straight Talk on Health Reform

Learn About Progress & Challenges

Saturday, December 11, 2010
Unitarian Universalist Church of Annapolis
333 Dubois Road Annapolis, MD 21401
Directions: www.uuca-md.org

9:00 Coffee & Registration (free)

9:30-10:20: Vincent DeMarco, the President of the Maryland Citizens' Health Initiative (MCHI)

Vinny will discuss the progress made in Maryland and nationally on health care in the past few years, including how:

- Maryland expanded health care to over 200,000 parents, children and seniors and decreased smoking over the past decade;
  - The new federal Affordable Care Act will help expand health care to over 30 million Americans and make health care more affordable for all of us;
  - The faith community, including Unitarian Universalists, played a key role in making this success happen;
  - The federal law is being implemented in our state;
  - We can all assist in making sure the new law is fully and effectively implemented;
  - We can help pass Health Care For All! Coalitions' top legislative priority of increasing the alcohol tax by a dime a drink to save lives from alcohol abuse and fund continued health care expansion, and programs necessary for people with developmental disabilities, mental health needs, and drug and alcohol abuse problems.
- Questions and answers with Vinny and Brooke Hisle, MCHI Coalition Director

10:20-10:35 Coffee, Conversation, and Book Signing
“The DeMarco Factor: Transforming Public Will into Political Power” by Michael Pertschuk

10:30-11:30 Howard Bedlin, Vice-President of Public Policy and Advocacy, National Council on Aging

- What’s in the new health reform law affecting seniors and people with disabilities;
- How the law will not cut basic Medicare benefits and will make some benefits better;
- How the new law gives Maryland new options to make it easier to receive and pay for long-term care at home;
- Challenges facing Maryland’s Medicaid program and how state advocates can help ;
- Impact of new law on Medicare spending, Medicare solvency and the budget deficit;
- Attempts in Congress to repeal or amend the new law.

Discussion follows with Howard Bedlin, a health care lobbyist in DC for over 25 years.

Welcoming a Guest at Your Table

Each year at this time, friends and families in our congregation participate in Guest at Your Table — a UU tradition. By bringing home a beautiful Guest at Your Table box, families and individuals learn about how the Unitarian Universalist Service Committee puts our shared values into action in the United States and around the world. Through a potent combination of advocacy, education, and partnerships with grassroots organizations, UUSC promotes economic rights, advances environmental justice, defends civil liberties, and preserves the rights of people in times of humanitarian crisis.

Through the Stories of Hope booklet, we connect with people in the United States and around the world who have shared their personal struggles and are working hard for human rights in partnership with UUSC. In each household, the Guest at Your Table box is placed in a prominent spot, often at the family meal table. When family and friends gather to enjoy their blessings, they can reflect on the contributions of their “guests” to the movement for universal human rights — and share generously. Each week, we can choose a different story to read, bringing our guests to life and helping celebrate our own rights.

Sharing our blessings through Guest at Your Table ensures that UUSC's human rights work continues. Please consider making a contribution that meets membership levels. Since UUSC is an independent organization that receives no funding from the UUA or the U.S. government, UUSC members are vitally important. If you would prefer not to bring home a box, you can take a donation envelope or support UUSC directly online at www.uusc.org

Goodloe's Inclement Weather Policy

The following policy will apply whenever weather or other conditions could prevent our congregation from holding scheduled services or any other activity or event. These conditions include:

- Winter storms: snow, ice, sleet, freezing rain, icy roads, etc.
- Water-related problems: hurricane, flooding, etc.
- Building problems: power outage, leaking roof, etc.

2. Responsibility for determining whether a Goodloe activity will be cancelled or moved to another location resides with:

- The convener or chair of a committee meeting, social event, or other activity that is not a regularly-scheduled worship service
- For a regularly scheduled worship service, the following persons will confer with each other in making the decision whether or not to cancel services:
  - President or, in his/her absence, the Vice President
  - Minister
  - Worship Committee Chair
  - Leader of the service
  - Director of Religious Education or RE chair

3. In the event that any condition exists that could interfere with holding a regularly-scheduled worship service, the President shall:

- Contact the person scheduled to lead the service (the minister, lay leader or visiting presenter) to determine whether that person will be arriving as planned

4. In the event that the President, Minister or Worship Chair determines that a regularly-scheduled service should be cancelled or moved to another location, he/she shall immediately notify the following people by phone:

- The email administrator who will send out an email message to the congregation
- The webmaster who will post a notice on the Goodloe web site
- DRE – who will notify all teachers scheduled that day
- Choir Director – who will notify all choir members
- Set-up crew

In addition, the President shall:

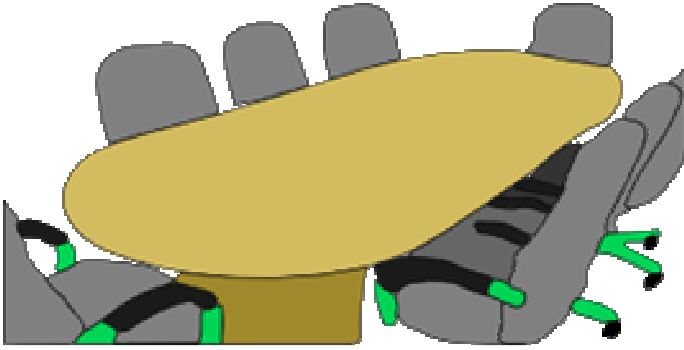

- Record a new outgoing message on the answering machine

5. In the event that the convener or chair determines that the event or activity should be moved or cancelled, he/she shall

- If the event is a congregation-wide or public event
  - Notify the email administrator who will send out an email message to the congregation
  - Record a new outgoing message on the answering machine.
- If the event is a regularly scheduled meeting and the group has elected to follow the inclement weather policy of a county group (e.g., Prince George's County School System), no notification is necessary for inclement weather.
- If the event is not congregation-wide and no county inclement weather policy is selected or the reason for cancellation is not due to weather, notify all planned participants of the decision.

6. Inform the congregation annually in the autumn of the inclement weather policy.

Board Meeting Minutes

November 9, 2010

I have always thought of Christmas time, when it has come round, as a good time; a kind, forgiving, charitable time; the only time I know of, in the long calendar of the year, when men and women seem by one consent to open their shut-up hearts freely, and to think of people below them as if they really were fellow passengers to the grave, and not another race of creatures bound on other journeys. ~Charles Dickens

We light candles in testament that faith makes miracles possible.

The Seven Principles of Kwanzaa

Umoja (OO-MO-JAH) Unity emphasizes the importance of togetherness for the relations and the community, which is reproduced in the African saying, "I am We," or "I am because We are."

Kujichagulia (KOO-GEE-CHA-GOO-LEE-YAH) Self-Determination necessitates that we describe our mutual interests and make choices that are in the best concern of our family and community.

Ujima (OO-GEE-MAH) Collective Work and Responsibility reminds us of our responsibility to the past, present and future, and that we have a job to perform in the commune, society, and world.

Ujamaa (OO-JAH-MAH) Cooperative economics put an emphasis on our combined economic strength and hearten us to meet common requirements through mutual support.

Nia (NEE-YAH) Purpose supports us to glance within ourselves and to set individual goals that are advantageous to the society.

Kuumba (KOO-OOM-BAH) Imagination makes use of our artistic energies to build and uphold a strong and pulsating society.

Imani (EE-MAH-NEE) Trust emphasizes on honouring the greatest of our customs, draws upon the most excellent in ourselves, and assists us to struggle for a superior level of life for human race, by asserting our self merits and self confidence in our capability to do well in virtuous struggle.
